

MURAL PROJECT SUMMER COMMUNITY PROGRAM PAINT THE SIDEWALKS ON MAIN

The Fairbank Mural Project, in conjunction with the City of Fairbank, recently applied for a grant from Iowa Art Council 2023 Art Project. The grant winner will be announced on June 30th. Part of the application process included having community participation in an art project.

One of the community events that was included on the grant application was painting the Main Street sidewalks that will be replaced next summer. This project must be done during the grant period of July 1, 2022 and June 30, 2023. Most of the work for this project will be done in July and August of 2022 and will bring vibrant colors and scenes to the sidewalks of Fairbank.

The Fairbank City Council gave their approval to the Fairbank Mural Project to move forward with this project at the June 13th meeting.

Each property owner will decide if they want to participate, will have final approval of their property's design, and where it will be painted. Gayle Lehmkuhl has begun to reach out to property owners and getting design ideas.

Groups of all ages will be needed to paint and property owners may choose to complete their own art. So if you, your children or grandchildren would enjoy an hour or two of painting we will need the help!

The Fairbank Mural Project was given some acrylic paint to use for this project and Gayle is providing brushes and other equipment. It is still under discussion whether we will have a mass paint day, or just work on one property at a time as a design is finalized.

Please contact Gayle at 319-415-1011 if you are interested in having your sidewalk painted, want to paint, have a great idea about the art design or need the paint and brushes to paint on your sidewalk.

a message from Mayor Mike

By Mike Harter

Congratulations and a BIG THANK YOU to everyone who helped make Fairbank Days a success again this year. There were many long hours of planning and hard work of those involved to accomplish the success they have had.

For those who weren't able to attend the meeting about the Main Street Project, it was a very informative night. The contracts for construction will be awarded in December. Construction will start as soon as possible in 2023 and will probably continue into 2024. The project will be done in sections so the street isn't completely closed. They hope to be able to have at least one lane of the bridge open at all times, or close to it. That will allow the emergency vehicles to get to the west side of town.

At the June 13th City Council Meeting, Chief of Police Dakota Drish presented life saving awards to the Fairbank Emergency Department and also one to Officer Mitch Franck. There is more about this story elsewhere in this paper.

Enjoy the rest of the summer! Stay Healthy and Safe!

Hello to all the people of Fairbank

By Brylee Bellis

I am so thankful for the opportunity to represent Fairbank as the 2022 Miss Fairbank Queen! I would like to give a huge shoutout to Alexis Rausch and Emily Little for the time and commitment they put into the application process so that myself and the other fellow candidates could have a memorable and stress free experience.

I would also like to mention how grateful I am for the time that I got to spend with the other candidates. Nothing beats being surrounded by a strong, beautiful group of classmates, friends, and even some teammates. I remember going into the interviews knowing everyone had a strong shot.

Empowered Energy of Fairbank is a new business that will be located in downtown Fairbank in the rear entrance area of the VanDaele Insurance building. Empowered Energy will be owned by Elsie VanDaele and she will comanage it with her father Chad VanDaele. It will provide nutritional shakes and tea drinks along with coffees and espresso. It will provide an area for customers to sit and visit, as well as have discussions on developing a healthy plan for themselves using these products.

When speaking with the VanDaele's, Chad said, "The idea came from my aunt and the impact her nutrition businesses have made in the two communities she owns them in; having a healthy choice for all ages and being able to have something positive to look forward to. We always wanted something in Fairbank that could promote health and exercise while also trying to find something our daughters could be a part of and hopefully someday run as a business. We are very excited and want to keep Main Street Fairbank alive and bring people to town to see what else Fairbank has to offer.

Life Saving Awards presented by Fairbank Police Chief

By Fairbank Police Chief Dakota Drish Recently, our Mayor and City Council took actionable steps at increasing our police presence in the City of Fairbank. The council approved the hiring of additional part-time police officers, updating and improvements to the police equipment, additional security, public safety, and our public service for the City of Fairbank, Buchanan County, and our other surrounding counties alike. As your Chief of Police, I thank the council for these decisions. These decisions that the council have made, have had a direct impact on the results that were celebrated on June 13, 2022. Because of council approval, Officer Mitch Franck of the Fairbank Police Department began his official duties with our department on March 29th, 2022, at approximately 8:00 A.M. Officer Franck worked approximately 48 hours for our department prior to the events that unfolded on April 24th, 2022.

On April 24th, 2022, at approximately 7:49 P.M., the Buchanan County Dispatch Center received a call stating that an individual was not conscious and was not breathing. At approximately 7:51 P.M., Fairbank Police Officer Mitch Franck was dispatched to the residence in Fairbank in an effort to perform lifesaving actions. At approximately 7:52 P.M., Fairbank Police Officer Mitch Franck went enroute to the residence. At approximately 7:52 P.M., Officer Franck arrived on scene and began performing lifesaving Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation, also known as CPR and deployed the Fairbank Police Department's Automated External Defibrillator, also known as an AED.

At approximately 7:53 P.M., the Fairbank Ambulance Service was dispatched and enroute to the scene. At approximately 7:54:43 P.M., the AED that Officer Franck had attached to the patient had delivered an electrical shock as required. At approximately 7:54:55 P.M., (12 seconds after the AED shock was delivered), the Fairbank Ambulance Service arrived on scene. Once on scene, first responder personnel began to connect the LUCAS machine to the patient to aid in performing CPR. At approximately 8:11 P.M., the ambulance service began to transport the patient to Allen Hospital. At approximately 8:15 P.M., Officer Franck cleared the scene and resumed his normal patrol responsibilities. It is my understanding that the patient is alive and well today. Because of the quick action and response time of our first responders, the immediate access of modern equipment to include the AED and the education and training of our first responders, and the passion and dedication of the first responders involved in this situation, this patient survived and was able to be treated by the appropriate medical personnel at a qualified hospital.

An award presentation was given at the city council meeting on Monday, Fairbank First Responders, along with the family they helped on april 24th, were recognized at a recent City Council Meetiong. From left: Fire & EMS members Ted Vorwald, Janice Martins, Cody Kleitsch, Justin Ritter, President Jason Kayser, Sharon Myers, patient whose life was saved Al Myers, Police Officer Mitchell Franck, and Asst. Fire Chief Kevin Bodensteiner. All present, except Kayser, were on the call, along with a few others.

June 13th. Allen and Sharon Myers were present since Allen was the patient. They assisted delivering the awards to Fairbank Police Officer Mitch Frank and the Fairbank Fire Department.

Because of the dedicated professional service by Fairbank Police Officer Mitch Frank, it was my honor and privilege to have presented the "Life Saving Award" on behalf of the City of Fairbank, myself, and Mayor Mike Harter. We commended him for his dedication, courage, and heroic actions that took place on April 24th, 2022. He was thanked for his continued service to the City of Fairbank, the citizens of our Buchanan County Area and to the entire State of Iowa. A round of applause was given.

Similarly, because of the dedicated professional service by the Fairbank Fire Department's Emergency Personnel, it was my honor and privilege to present them with the "Life Saving Award" on behalf of the City of Fairbank, Myself, and Mayor Mike Harter. We commended them for their dedication, courage, and heroic actions that they took on April 24th, 2022, and their continued service to the City of Fairbank, the Citizens of our Buchanan County Area and to the entire State of Iowa.

"Lost in History"

by Betty Brandt Passick I put another thousand miles on my SUV during the week of June 10th. My second Northeast Iowa book tour netted invitations for author talks and book signings largely from new venues: Decorah, Fort Atkinson, Manchester, and Hopkinton (along with repeat visits to Sumner and New Hampton). All were ideal sites - in that the early chapters of The Black Bag of Dr. Wiltse, Murder on the Prairie (2021) take place in Delaware County.

There were surprises along the way, as there always are.

I was thrilled when at The Landing Market in Decorah a former Fairbank neighbor, Elaine Hein, arrived to purchase a copy of the book. She was one of five children born to Martin and Helen (Eckhart) Hein. who lived in the first house southwest of the CGW railroad tracks on Fourth Street. Their house was demolished years ago, but back in the 1950s-70s, when our Brandt family of 10 lived in the two-story house east of the Baptist church, our families spent a lot of time together. They were German Lutherans, too.

Martin Hein and his brother Otto Hein had established Hein Bros. Construction in the late 1940s following Otto's return from service in WWII. The firm employed an average of 4-6 employees, and the business was capable of building a structure from concrete foundation to finish trim, at a time when it was still allowed to do electrical and plumbing as a general contractor.

Martin, 47, was killed in a work-related accident in June 1964. One of my brothers, an employee at the time, was following Martin in another vehicle and witnessed the accident. Elaine revisited how everything changed for their family after her father's death. Otto continued the business until his retirement. He died in 1985. After that, the Hein name began to disappear from the Fairbank's collective memory, a name once as prominent as Bentley, Curley, Lehmkuhl, Meyers, and Miller.

Next, I traveled to the Fort Atkinson Community Center for an author talk sponsored by the Fort Atkinson library. Right out of the gate I asked the question: "Who can tell me why Fort Atkinson was built?" (questions like this help me ascertain the level of attendees' historical knowledge of the area). Most of the dozen people knew the answer. Fort Atkinson had been established in 1840 to monitor (protect) the Ho-Chunk Winnebago Nation, who had been forced to move from their homeland in Wisconsin to the Neutral Ground in northeastern Iowa. Without protection of the fort, the Ho-Chunk Indians faced certain extinction from other warring tribes. The fort was disbanded in 1849 when U.S. Army troops were pulled to fight in the Mexican American War (1846-1848), and the Ho-Chunk were relocated to Crow Wing River (Long Prairie) in Minnesota though some never made the journey north. Ho-Chunk yet roamed NE Iowa when Dr. Alexander Wiltse - the main character in the Black Bag of Dr. Wiltse - and his family arrived from Ontario, Canada around 1848. The history of Fort Atkinson and the Ho-Chunk Indians are integral pieces of the state's pioneer history. Iowa became a state in 1846.

The pandemic prevented me from previously visiting the Delaware County Historical Museum Complex in Hopkinton – the former site of Lenox College (1859-1944). As I stopped my SUV outside a long narrow brick structure, I felt a hope tug at me: I hoped that those at my presentation might have new information about Dr. Wiltse who had first resided in the Colesburg for several years after immigrating to America. Additionally, I still had not found the portrait of Dr. Wiltse listed among the assets in his probate. Had someone in the area found and donated it to the Delaware County museum? I could only hope.

As it turned out, Finkbonner Hall (gymnasium), erected in 1916, was the designated space for my sixty minutes presentation. Basketball hoops still hung from the ceiling on either end; concrete bleachers lined internal walls; and rows of U.S. state flags on long poles hung unfurled above me. I thought it divine to get to speak in this historical academic universe.

Unfortunately, the event was sparsely attended, due to some advertising glitch. Two attendees were museum volunteers, and neither was aware of the pioneer physician Dr. Alexander Wiltse; or of the Delaware County Medical Society organized in March 1856; or of the heinous 1858 murder involving members of the society - all well documented in The history of Delaware County, Iowa, published in 1878. My hopes were dashed, but the outcome not unanticipated, as by 1859 Dr. Wiltse had relocated to Strawberry Point in Clayton County and served that community for seventeen years until his death in 1876.

One of the volunteers then offered me a tour of the museum. The four old Lenox College buildings are on the National Register of Historic Places in America. The front entrance of Old Main, constructed in 1856, had been built with dual doors, one for males and one for females. Clarke Hall, the women's dormitory, was added in 1890; Doolittle Hall, which housed the library and the literary society rooms, came in 1900. The institution closed its doors in 1944 during WWII, after nearly all male students and many staff left to fight in the war. It never reopened.

You can imagine my delight – having authored a novel about a country doctor – to find one very large room dedicated to early twentieth century medical equipment and supplies, many items still in the original bottles and boxes (donated by a local physician). The museum has other copious interesting displays; however, the whereabouts of Dr. Wiltse's missing portrait remained a mystery.

The last leg of the tour was the Manchester Public Library, built in 1902. Today, this library is the third oldest Carnegie public library being used as a library in Iowa. It's always a pleasant shock when I get invited to speak in such a beautiful structure - with large symmetrical windows and doors in a Classical Revival style - and then, to find out attendees have come ripe with anticipation to learn about a piece of Delaware County history. The group was with me at every step and turn as I went through my Power-Point slides that chronicled Dr. Wiltse's lost history in county records and newspaper archives. But another surprise followed: Rev. Mary Green, former pastor of the Fairbank United Methodist Church, identified herself in the audience.

Throughout my 7-stop book tour, I thought about legacy. I wondered whether Dr. Alexander Wiltse's legacy – and that of his wife Phebe Wiltse, along with their five children (Vidella, Charles, Edwin, Lucetta, and Sophia) – would have been more prominently notated in history if more of his children (and grandchildren) had remained in the area.

Even Dr. Alexander Wiltse's son – Dr. Edwin Wiltse – who built Hotel Wiltse in 1877 in Fairbank, where he established his medical practice, returned to his native Canada around 1910, after the divorce from his wife Lucy (Dean) Wiltse.

When Fairbank published the town's 20-page pictorial history in 1976, in celebration of America's 200th anniversary, Dr. Edwin Wiltse's name was absent from the list of pioneer physicians who had served the community.

Perhaps history would have been kinder, too, had the families of either Dr. Wiltses bequeathed to some future museum his black leather bag, a collection of his medical books – or perhaps, his two-seated open buggy.

According to Dr. Alexander Wiltse's probate, Edwin purchased his father's buggy for eighty dollars.

I can only surmise the buggy pictured in the "Old Settlers Day 1894" photo (courtesy of Howard Durham, Fairbank Historical Society) may have belonged to Dr. Alexander Wiltse. The man holding the reins is believed to be Dr. Edwin Wiltse, with Lucy seated behind him. Hotel Wiltse (in the background) stood for a hundred years on Fairbank's Main Street. In the late 1970s, the building was demolished by the Fairbank Fire Department to make way for the new Fairbank City Library, constructed in 1980.

The Decorah Driftless Journal recently noted this statement about my two historical novels: "Both gangster books are set in Iowa, and while they are historical fiction, they are based on fact and actual crimes based in Iowa."

I would only add that the town of "Oxbow" (a community similar to Fairbank) is the central theme in my gangster series.

Grace to you and peace from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ!

"Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy...In six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that is in them, and rested on the seventh day. Therefore the Lord blessed the Sabbath day and made it holy." (Exodus 20:8, 11 English Standard Version)

This month we're going to think about something we haven't yet. Or, if we have, I don't remember. It's something which we take for granted but that we should from time to time, and especially in summer, be reminded of. What we need to be reminded of as the summer sets in is this: It is the Lord's will that we Christians be regularly gathering to hear His Word, receive the gifts He gives in His Sacraments, and sing His praise in return. But how do we get there from the passage above?

I've quoted the passage which all Christians recognize as the Third Commandment. It recalls how God made the universe and everything in it in six days. On the seventh day He rested. It wasn't because God was tired but so that He could reflect on His own good work and set a pattern for His people to follow. The seventh day, God called the Sabbath. In the Old Testament, God commanded His people to refrain from all their work on the seventh day of the week (Saturday). The point wasn't the physical rest, however, but the spiritual refreshment that came from hearing God's Word - which is what they were to do instead of working.

The Sabbath, as a law, was fulfilled by Christ's rest in the tomb on the seventh day. This was recognized by the early church in the Book of Acts. They also recognized that it was still good, and still God's will, that they gather to hear the Word and receive the Sacraments. They figured, why not Sunday? It was, after all, the day Jesus rose from the dead. That would be a fine day to gather. In the New Testament, Sunday is known also as, "The Lord's Day." (Rev. 1:10)

I once had a confirmation student ask me what I do during the summer. I didn't understand the question. When I asked him what he meant, he said that since there wasn't church during the summer, he wondered what I'd do with my time. I assured him that, yes, there was church during the summer - and I expected to see him there! My friends, I say the same to you. I don't say this as a law, to coerce you. It's simply that going to church - whichever one it is - is good for you. It is good for you to be spiritually refreshed. It's good for you to visit with other Christians. It's good for them to visit with you. When you are absent from church, even more than the pastor, the other members who are there miss you.

And so, as the summer sets in this month, consider whether you might warm your normal pew. If you don't have one, I've got one for you here at St. John's. The service is at 10:00 on Sundays. If you're away at the river during the summer, consider attending there. If that isn't an option, our service is livestreamed on Facebook. You can catch it live or watch it back later. The address is Facebook.com/ stjohnsandgracelp. I'll see you on the Lord's Day!

Class of '72

The Wapsie Valley High School Class of 1972 met to celebrate their 50 year graduation anniversary in June.

On Friday night, June 17, class members decorated the float trailer. They rode the float in the Readlyn Grump Days parade on June 18 and again on June 25 for Fairbank Island Days.

On Sunday, June 19, there was a noon buffet meal at the Center Inn, Readlyn. Classmates along with others were there, with total attendance around 50. Teachers: Miss Janice Moon (Mrs Kurt Lehmkuhl), Mr. Mel Neil and wife, and Mr. Colby Withers and wife, were there and shared memories. A remembrance board had photos and candles burned for those deceased from our class. Thanks to those in attendance and to those unable to be there - you were truly missed!

The Reunion Committee gives thanks to each and everyone from our class, our teachers and communities for your part in making our 50 year class reunion a total success!

After the Readlyn parade we took a Wapsie Valley school bus out to the high school and had a tour to notice all the changes made in the past 50 years. Our class photo still hangs on the wall in the hallway to the music room, but it does show just a few signs of age to it.

"These candles burn in loving memory of those who are not here today, but who are forever present in our hearts."
